BARTENDER FINED. Sold Cigars to Men in Saloen on Sunday Evening—Disobeyed Owner.

The police caught some men in Anseline Bernier's saloon, $25 Main street, Sunday evening, and as a result Arthur Lafleur, a bartender for the proprietor of the place, was in court Monday, charged with keeping the saloon open on Sunday, February 20, as an act contrary to the statutes governing the operation of saloons in this city. Lafleur entered a plea of not guilty. Lieutenant Killourey, who made the arrest, testified that at $45 o'clock Sunday evening he noticed a number of men in the place and therefore arrested Lafleur.

The case was about to be put over until today when Lafleur changed his plea to guilty, after the charge had been explained to him. Defendant said he had sold nothing but cigars to the men with him and did not sell any liquor. He admitted that he made a mistake in permitting the men to go into the saloon with him. He denied that he was accustomed to take men into the saloon with him on Sundays. Mr. Bernier, the proprietor, said he had ordered his bartender not to open on Sundays unless he was absolutely obliged to, and then not in any way contrary to law. Both were given a lecture by the court relative to the law with reference to saloons, and then Judge Arnold imposed a fine on Lafleur of $15 and costs, amounting to $21 60, for keeping the saloon open on Sunday, which was paid.

STAFFORD SPRINGS Death of William H. Cooley, Prominent in Manufacturing and Business Af-

william H. Cooley, aged 69, died at his home on East Main street Monday morning. Mr. Cooley was a member of the firm of Smith & Cooley, manufacturers of flocks, and for several years has been actively interested in the manufacturing and business affairs of the community. He was born in South Deerfield, Mass., and came to Stafford Springs when he was 23 years old. He entered the employ of William Smith as bookkeeper and in 1870 he became associated with Mr. Smith, whose daughter he married, and has since continued the business.

In the death of Mr. Cooley the town loses an enterprising citizen and one whose place in the community it will be difficult to fill. Besides his wife he is survived by a son, Benjamin P. Cooley, of Stafford Springs, and a daughter, Miss Margaret Cooley, who resides at home.

The school will be closed today (Tuesday), Washington's birthday. The banks will also be closed and the post-office will observe the usual holiday Favorable reports are received from Miss Elizabeth Sanders, who under went an operation for appendicitis i the Springfield hospital last week.
